THE ICE SHEET SKIMS THE SURFACE

The yoyo temperatures of the recent weeks have left no trace of winter on the ground or on the water until now. Saturday morning a trace of ice appeared on both Mattapoisett and Marion Harbors. Our cover is the scene off the Marion boat ramp with the skim in the background as one of the last boats in the harbor leads a lonely existence.

September by the state. The balance of $213,127.13 will be available at the May annual town meeting, she said.

Articles 1 and 2 gave the Highway Surveyor, Wesley N. Bowman, the authority to enter into a lease/purchase agreement to lease a front end loader, with an option to purchase; and the sum of $21,827.89 will be transferred from Free Cash for the agreement. The firm figure of $69,725 for the sale price will be paid at a rate of $3,118.27 per month, and will be included in the highway department budget for 1990 and 1991.

Highway Surveyor Bowman explained that parts for the 1965 Nelson loader are difficult to obtain. The loader is dangerous to drive - the steering, brakes, radiator, front end and transmission are all in bad shape, he said. The new loader is a Caterpillar from a Wareham distributor and will be serviced locally.

Selectman John DeCosta explained the Board has the authority to dispose of unwanted town equipment. Several trucks, including the old loader, will be disposed of by bid in the near future. This will allow room for the Council on Aging van which has been kept out-of-doors recently because of the lack of room at the town barn.

Article 3 - fiscal 1988 unpaid bills totaled $11,951.20 and was necessary because the bills came in in excess of the reserve fund.

Article 4 - Blue Cross/Blue Shield payments of $5,322.78, made necessary because rates were increased after the fiscal 1988 budget was voted.

Article 5 - Additional fiscal 1988 requests for pension and employee benefits because rates were increased after budgets

Article 6 - An independent audit at a cost of $25,000 - required by regulations governing federal funds. The last audit was done in 1986. This will be a full audit, said the Town Accountant.

Article 7 - Police Station Bonding - $40,000. This amount was inadvertently omitted from the police station contract, explained Selectmen Chairman William F. Hubbard. He said the funds are needed to pay for selling the bonds, printing the bonds and other fees connected with selling bonds.

Chairman Hubbard responded to a question saying, "There is 5 percent in the contingency fund rather than the 10 percent the speaker felt there should have been." The Chairman said the construction of the police station is only half-way completed, and "we don't know what other emergencies might come up before completion."

Article 8 - Police Station fire alarm system - $12,000. Fire Alarm Superintendent Paul M. Kelley explained the new electronic system will replace equipment in the present station that is antiquated - some from 1897, 1927 and 1934. "I'm afraid if it is moved it may fall apart even though it is working at the present time. At a cost of about $1,800 to move, with the possibility it may have to be replaced in the not-too-distant future, it makes more sense to put in new equipment now."

Mr. Kelley said he originally asked Selectmen to put a figure of $30,000 in the police station contract for new equipment, but it wasn't done. The new system will be placed within a 12 inch by 18 inch register box as opposed to taking up much more space with the old system.

Peter B. Hodges, interested citizen, felt this cost should have come from the station budget contract, or from the contingency fund. Chairman Hubbard said there will probably be seven or eight change orders before completion and $26,000 was spent on fill not planned for. He estimated there is $35,000 left in the contingency fund.

Article 9 - ComElectric and N.E. Telephone Easements for the police station. No funds are involved. This article was necessary to give the utility companies permission to use town land to maintain their equipment.

Article 10 - Town Hall Copy Machine, $5,000. Executive Secretary Carol Adams explained the present machine is seven years old and although it is made for 3,000 copies they average 5,000 copies per month. The repair man is always being called. She added that she has contacted six companies for quotes that range from $3,700 to $6,500 and all are serviced locally. A service contract would cost approximately $450. per year, she said.

Article 11 - Sewer Engineering Fees - $3,500.

Water/Sewer Superintendent William T. Nicholson explained the funds are necessary to pay a consultant to file information with DEQE to get on a priority list. This is the first step, and a very important one, to get on a list to apply for construction grants.

Article 12 - Operation of Sanitary Landfill - no funds involved.

Board of Health Chairman Daniel C. Lee explained the board needed to know how voters felt about joining SEMASS, a private company, to operate the sanitary landfill. He explained the 20 acre landfill has been in operation for 16 years and nine acres have been used. He outlined the potential costs to the town over the next five years with the town having to meet strict state DEQE standards. Estimated annual costs are $52,000 plus $620,000 for capping the landfill and purchasing a new landfill machine. In addition, about $60,000 per year to pay SEMASS for 3500 tons in tipping fees.

The advantages of joining with SEMASS will mean no cost tipping fees for four years, construction of a transfer station at no cost; no cost capping of the existing landfill area; no cost engineering and monitoring of the area and no cost to Mattapoisett to use the landfill area.

Mr. Lee said this is a drastic move for the town, but the Board of Health believes it is a necessary step for the town to take. Questions from the audience were concerned if the town will have veto power on environmental standards on damaging our water supply. Mr. Lee said all these concerns can be put in the agreement.

At the recommendation of Town Counsel Donald J. Fleming, the wording of the article was changed to read: Give the Board of Health the authority to negotiate an agreement with SEMASS; the Board of Selectmen must approve the conditions of the agreement; no agreement can be signed until it has been presented to Town Meeting for approval. This was passed.

Article 13 - Authorization for Local Inspectors to perform work in town. Town Counsel explained this is a petition to the state legislature to allow small towns like Mattapoisett under state ethics statute to appoint a small businessman to a local inspectors's job. No particular person will be served by this, said Counsel. This would apply for towns under 10,000 to employ qualified local business persons as town inspectors when the local inspector may have a conflict of interest or otherwise be disqualified. There would be no additional cost to Article 14 - Old Rochester Regional High School Architectural and Engineering Costs - $10,725 (Mattapoisett's share of $25,000) to be expended for planning costs related to reconstructing, adding to, equipping, remodeling or making extraordinary repairs to the regional senior high school.

ORR School Committee Chairman Manuel C. Rosenfield told the audience, "Look around you, look at the ceiling with its crumbling plaster. This building had its first class in 1961 - this building is aging. An Advisory Committee was set up to define what is needed, and over the next five years we hope to rehabilitate the building and extend its life for another 30 years."

Article 15 - Sewer Treatment Plant - no funds sought, but a sense of the meeting voted to give the Water/Sewer Commissioners authority to proceed with the agreement with Fairhaven to buy an additional 250,000 gallons per day capacity in their enlarged sewer treatment plant, even though the original cost of $450,000 will increase to about $800,000. (The sum of $450,000 was voted at a previous town meeting; however, due to the cutback of state and federal funding, and the fact that the state will not fund future capacity use of the sewer plant, the town must pay the additional cost without state assistance.)

Superintendent Nicholson said "we could go two ways - go for the 250,000 gallons per day and pay the additional cost; or pay for Mattapoisett's share of the expansion construction cost and give up the extra capacity to Fairhaven."

A letter received by the Board of Selectmen from Mr. Joseph Keller, developer of the proposed golf course/housing on the Nunes' Brandt Island property, in which he offered the town $350,000 to help offset the increased cost of the sewer capacity to Fairhaven. The offer would be contingent upon the completion of the sale to him of the Nunes' property and the need of 80,000 gallons per day capacity for the Keller development. Selectman DeCosta said the Selectmen want voters to understand that the town may have to pay the full $800,000 if the Nunes' property sale is not completed.

Peter Kortright of the Mattapoisett Growth Committee said $800,000 is not that bad a deal for 250,000 gallons per day. "This is an opportunity for Mr. Keller and for the town. I want to know what is facing Selectmen. First, it was $35,000 given by Keller for a water study; then $100,000 for a town planner. Does the town have to make a commitment to Keller Company? It's getting a little thick with money flying around", he noted.

Water/Sewer Commissioner Charles A. Morgan expressed concern that the Keller offer was aired tonight. He said, "Tomorrow night (Wednesday, January 11th), the Commissioners will hear about the offer - we should have heard about it before being brought up here. I want to know what we have to give up. I feel we should upgrade our present facilities with the additional capacity."

Commissioner Morgan added, after the letter from Mr. Keller was read, "that, in 1984, we urged getting added capacity for our own people. The town cannot meet State standards for land to build a treatment plant of its own, and we don't know how much this additional cost will be. I do want the voters to know, Keller had absolutely nothing to do with it - our need for added capacity."

Joint Meeting on Water/Sewer

JANUARY 11, 1989-by VIRGINIA MORGAN

At a meeting with the Water/Sewer Commissioners, Superintendent William T. Nicholson and Town Counsel Donald Fleming, Selectmen last Wednesday discussed with Mr. Joseph Keller of Keller Company, Inc. the Keller Company's offer of $350,000 to assist the town in paying for the added capacity at the Fairhaven Sewer Treatment Plant. Mr. Keller estimates the development of a golf course and about 175 houses in Mattapoisett will require 80,000 gallons per day of capacity to the treatment plant.

The need for water to the proposed development is of major importance to the Keller Company for purchasing the 242 acres of Manuel R. Nunes' property off Brandt Island Road. Mr. Keller said he would consider helping to pay for the project to bring a water line up Brandt Island Road to provide water to existing homes and to the proposed development.

Selectmen Chairman William F. Hubbard said the town has wanted to supply water to the Brandt Island area for many years. It would make sense to extend the water lines while the town has financial help from the developer. He noted that section of town is one of the last major areas of town without municipal water.

At the conclusion of discussions, the joint group agreed to wait until the Commissioners' water study, which is being done by Whitman Howard Engineers, is completed. Mr. Keller said at the time when the survey is completed and it is known how much water the town is capable of taking from the wells and how a water line extension to the Keller development would affect the town's water system, he will make a decision on how his company can help out with financing.

The deadline for Mr. Keller to purchase the Nunes' property is about the first of March, but Mr. Keller said he will try to extend the deadline a few weeks while the town determines whether it can provide the needed water to the development. The Water Commissioners will make every effort to ob-

The board meetings are open meetings, held in Room 202 in the Town Hall, at 1:30 p.m. the second Tuesday of each month.

The Council has an eleven member Board of Directors, each one chosen by the Selectmen. These dedicated volunteers give unstintingly and unselfishly of their time and of themselves to enhance the lives of seniors, a percentage of our Mattapoisett population which is increasing yearly.

Whether you wish to speak on a subject which is pertinent to the elderly, or whether you are an interested townsperson, you are welcome. Come share your ideas and find out about what is being done with fine programs that have already been initiated. It will be interesting, informative, and we welcome fresh ideas.

And, of course, the Council needs volunteers. Think about it. The Board of Directors will be pleased to see you.

REMEMBER: The second Tuesday of each month, Room 202, at the Town Hall at 1:30 p.m.

For more information about the meetings or any questions you may have on other matters, call 758-3758 Monday through Friday, 9 a.m. to 12 noon.

Mattapoisett Woman's Club

Words like responsibility and commitment are often associated with older people today, and not too often with teenagers. Rona Zable is a New Bedford author who writes for each. She feels it is important to acquaint the younger set with them while helping seniors live as easily as possible in a world where rules and values change rapidly. How she does both she will explain to the members and guests of the Mattapoisett Woman's Club at the January meeting on Thursday, the 19th, at the Congregational Church Parish Hall. Ms. Zable is the author of "Love at the Laundromat" and editor of "Senior Scope".

Eddie's friends in the Veterans of Foreign Wars, the Marion Social Club, the Marion Masons, St. Gabriel's Fellowship and others, spearheaded by Rodney P. Hunt and Robert Nunes, joined forces in supporting aid to restore the Point Road home. On January 14th many members of these organizations gathered at the site to raise the Zora home once more. In one day they plan to close in the outside walls and put the roof on the dwelling. During the preceding week Robert Nunes, a builder by trade, had done the structural work over many hours of labor. Through Saturday people will come and pick up hammers and saws to join the effort in an all-out effort to help a friend.

Because the fire destroyed everything, furniture has been donated by another party and is stored at the Stone Estate awaiting the time it will be needed to furnish the new home.

Mr. Eddie Zora has no need to wonder how much he is valued in his community because his friends have demonstrated beyond all doubt that they are friends

Veterans' Update

"Women are Veterans Too" is the title of a new VA pamphlet. This pamphlet is part of an outreach campaign to make women veterans more aware of the benefits available to them. A VA survey concluded that many women veterans are simply not aware of VA Benefits programs.

Of the 1.2 million women veterans in the United States, approximately 11,000 served in Vietnam and have experienced the same psychological and other readjustment problems that the male veterans have.

According to the survey, 1/3 of the women veterans are not aware that they are entitled to medical care by VA medical centers.

University Dancers at O.R.R.

The second presentation of the David S. Hagen Performing Arts Series, the University Dancers in Concert, will be presented at Old Rochester Regional High School this Thursday, January 19th, at 12:30 p.m. and 7:30 p.m.

The 12:30 performance will be a school assembly and the 7:30 p.m. performance will be free of charge and open to the public.

This year's repertory, which focuses on the modern and jazz idioms, is enhanced with a work by Doug Varone, internationally recognized choreographer and teacher. Mr. Varone came to UMass through a grant provided by the Harkness Foundation. The work he set for the University Dancers, "Aria and Bench Quartet", is a dramatic and jubilant work which has received excellent acclaim from the New York Times.

Another offering in the modern idiom will be Terese Freedman's "Bach Violin Concerto". This upbeat and whimsical work uses eight dancers to interpret the musical inventions of Bach's Concerto for Violin and Strings in A Minor, the first and third movements. Andrea Watkins' "Ricochet" chooses to explore movement through the lively music of Jean Michel Jarre's Equinox.

The stage sizzles in two presentations by UMass graduates Gary Lussier and Sue Casey. Gary's "Motive for Murder" shows three underworld characters "strutting their stuff" to the music of The Police. Sue, who was motivated by the vocalizations of Aretha Franklin, created "You" which is full of soulful, luscious movement.

Richard Jones' "Visions" was inspired by an original composition of Salvatore Macchia, professor of string bass at UMass.

The movement vocabulary and musical offerings are diverse and will provide a well-rounded, entertaining performance.

The 12:30 p.m. performance will include "Why Mosquitoes Buzz in People's Ears", a West African tale set to dance by Mr. Jones. This production is designed for the young members in the audience.

STRATTON FINISHING
CEASE AND DESIST UPHELD

A decision announced on January 5th by the Zoning Board of Appeals has upheld a Cease and Desist Order placed by Building Inspector Andrew J. Bobola October 26, 1988 on Peter Briggs, 1 Brierpatch Lane, owner of the property at 22 Harbor Road where Stratton Finishing, Inc. has been operating.

The order was upheld following a hearing when the lawfulness of Stratton Finishing's use of Shed #3 in the Rural District was at issue. Mr. Briggs was notified to cease and desist immediately the current use of Shed #3 at 22 Harbor Road premises by Bruce Mathieson and Stratton Finishing, Inc. which Mr. Mathieson owns and operates. Shed #1 is used for storage and Shed #2 is used by Phoenix Boat Works. The lot and three sheds were in existence at the time of the adoption of the zoning by-laws on November

The current use of Shed #3, a change of the pre-existing non-conforming use requiring a special permit from the Appeals Board to allow Bruce Mathieson and Stratton Finishing, Inc. to conduct the current business, has been denied.

The Appeals Board derived its essential findings from the testimony of Allan H. Vaitses, principal of Almike Corp., which owned the property in 1967. Mr. Vaitses and his company, A.H. Vaitses and Associates, were then conducting business on the lot and using the three large sheds. The board found that the business use of the lot and sheds was custom boat building, and that the business use of Shed #3 was custom boat building. Beginning in the 1950s Mr. Vaitses began the business on the property as a sole proprietor doing custom boat building of wooden boats. As fiberglass became the new material for boat building, Mr. Vaitses and his company continued custom boat building by building more fiberglass boats and fewer wooden boats, and were so engaged up to early 1973. Each and every phase of boat building from the initial work of laying the keel, framing and molding to final painting was conducted on the premises. As Mr. Vaitses described it, the business of boat building is to carry through from beginning to end all phases of the boat building process. The whole of the process was conducted on the premises. When the property became zoned as a single-family residence district, the business use was a lawful pre-existing nonconforming use of the premises, and the three large sheds, not being single-family dwellings, were lawful pre-existing nonconforming structures. For 15 months from 1973 to 1974, the business use was custom boat building conducted on the lot using the three sheds by Richard P. Petit, Buzzards Bay Boat Company.

Mr. Briggs acquired the property in 1980. Beginning in 1988, Bruce Mathieson and his company, Stratton Finishing, Inc., leased Shed #3 and began a business use of the non-conforming structure without a building permit or a special permit. Alterations were made to Shed #3 by constructing four spray paint booths and installing related equipment and fixtures. Mr. Mathieson then began his business operation as follows: boat parts from boat builders located off the premises are shipped to Stratton, placed on hangars in the paint booths, spray painted with a polyester urethane gloss topcoat, sold under the trade name Awlgrip, and then shipped off the premises back to the boat builders. The operation is a continuing single process of spray painting boat parts. Awlgrip is a material containing the following hazardous ingredients: methyl ethyl ketone (butanone), toulene (methyl) benzene), cellosolve acetate (ethoxyethylethanoate), xylene (dimethyl benzene) and lead chromate pigments.

The operation created a storm of protest in the neighborhood. Complaints were made of noise, odors and air pollution. They made known their views to the Board of Selectmen and the Building Inspector. Following a meeting with Selectmen, Mr. Mathieson, again without a building permit or a special permit, installed four large exhaust stacks on Shed #3 for the fumes from the spray painting process. The stacks, which extend approximately 30 feet above the roof of Shed #3, were added to a building already 25 to 30 feet high.

The neighbors were in opposition to a permit and reported to the Appeals Board on the offensive nature of the noise from continuing operation of exhaust fans and the odors of the spray painting fumes. There were individual complaints of nasal and respiratory discomfort, dizziness, nausea, headaches and eye irritation attributed to harmful contaminants in the fumes.

The evidence before the Board was not sufficient to enable the board to quantify and measure the harmful contaminants, the extent of their dispersion in the air and the standards of exposure and harm. The board did not have the benefit of expert witness testimony because neither the appellant-applicant (Peter P. Briggs) nor the opponents presented any experts. Stratton Finishing, Inc. did not participate in the proceedings. Its counsel was present, as he put it, in the role of observer. The evidence is compelling, however, as to offensive noise and odors and the Appeals Board said they could make findings on this.

The Appeals Board finds the use of Shed #3 by Mr. Mathieson is but a single phase of the boat building process. The process is the work of a specialist, a spray painter, repeated over and over again as in an assembly line process of manufacturing. As implied by the name "Finishing", the company is engaged in the business of finishing boat parts, not a boat builder. The use is industrial and has altered the looks of the neighborhood. There is a difference in the quality and character, as well as the degree of intensity, of the current use. To sum it up, the Appeals Board finds that the Mathieson-Stratton Finishing use of Shed #3 is substantially more detrimental than the pre-existing nonconforming use of the shed to the neighborhood.

Mr. Mathieson has the right to appeal the decision. No decision has been announced as to what Mr. Mathieson's plans are.

A second application for a Special Permit was granted to Reservation Golf Club, Inc., 10 Reservation Road regarding its property for alterations to an existing nonconforming structure, a clubhouse, on a lot used for a golf course and clubhouse, a nonconforming use of the structure and lot in the Rural Residence 30 District.

The clubhouse is a two-story wood frame building with a street setback from Reservation Road of 12 feet, which fails to meet the required 30 feet setback. Both lot and clubhouse were in existence before the adoption of the 1967 By-Laws.

There will be no change in the footprint of the structure, but a second floor will be added with extensive alterations inside.

No one appeared at the public hearing in opposition. The owners of adjoining lots appeared in support. One of the adjoining landowners requested screening to protect their small lot arising out of the proposed site changes to the west and south of their lot.

TO TOBEY HOSPITAL

The Wareham Order of Elks recently donated a video system to Tobey Hospital's Rehabilitation Department for use in patient education and treatment.

According to Janet Gillis, PT, Rehab Director at the hospital, the donation which consists of a camcorder and a television, will assist both patients and the rehab staff.

The system will be particularly useful in providing visual feedback to help patients improve their progress in treatment.

Publisher of the 220-page, limited edition book will be Spinner Publications of New Bedford. Spinner has previously published New Bedford: A Pictorial History, A Picture History of Fairhaven, and the critically acclaimed series, Spinner: People and Culture in Southeastern Massachusetts.

Plymouth Savings Bank became involved in the project at the urging of CCCGA Executive Director Dwight G. Peavey, Ph.D. With the Association celebrating its 100th anniversary, Peavey commented that "the growers were concerned that there was no permanent record detailing the history of the cranberry families and the communities in which the cranberry industry is centered." The Association represents over 400 growers located primarily in southeastern Massachusetts, including Cape Cod. Peavey was aware of the geographic overlap with the Plymouth Savings Bank market area.

"Cranberry growing is certainly an integral part of our economy and touches the lives of many families in the local communities," stated Thomas S. Olsen, President of Plymouth Savings Bank. "We are excited about having the opportunity to give the industry and the Association a written history."

Material for the book will be based, in large part, on folk and oral history

Tobey Hospital

PULMONOLOGIST JOINS HOSPITAL STAFF

Emmet J. Eby, M.D. is practicing pulmonary and critical care medicine at Tobey Hospital, announced Charles S. Kinney, hospital president.

A graduate of Kansas University Medical School, Dr. Eby did an internship and residency in internal medicine at State University of New York (SUNY) Hospital at Stony Brook. He recently completed a fellowship in Pulmonary Medicine and Critical Care at Rhode Island Hospital, an affiliate of Brown University Medical School.

While at Rhode Island, Dr.Eby accomplished research on pulmonary hypertension and presented a paper on the topic at the annual meeting of the American Thoracic Society in Las Vegas. The findings of the study helped describe pulmonary hypertension in terms of those who are at risk for developing the disease. Dr. Eby also won an award from the New England Chapter of the American College of Physicians for a poster presentation on his research project.

At. Tobey, Dr. Eby will be involved in treatment for patients with pulmonary problems and will serve as the medical director of Tobey's medical intensive care unit. Dr.Eby also received specialized training in the relatively new medical specialty, critical care, as part of his fellowship. "Critical care is the management of patients who have problems with a number of organs or body systems", Dr. Eby explained. "This involves very complex treatment,

"Pulmonary disease is one of the major health problems in the area and we can now offer patients expert treatment and services at the community level. Dr. Eby will also improve our treatment capabilities for patients who are critically ill."

Trip to The Cloisters

The New Bedford Glass Museum is sponsoring an Easter-time trip to America's foremost collection of Medieval art, The Cloisters in New York City.

The Saturday, March 18th, Trip will depart New Bedfod at 7:00 a.m. for New York, returning at approximately 9:00 p.m., under the guidance of Museum Director Janie Chester Young.

Set in a hilltop park overlooking the Hudson River, The Cloisters is a medieval-styled castle housing the finest American collection of Medieval paintings, tapestries, sculpture, and art objects. Among its holdings are the famous Unicorn cycle of tapestries, the fifteenth century Merode Altarpiece, and the 11th century English relic, the Bury St. Edmonds Cross.

Tour participants will be viewing the collection, named after the actual French and Spanish cloisters carried from Europe and re-constructed on the spot, at its most beautiful. Each year, The Cloisters are decorated for the Easter season with live lilies, roses, and other medieval plants through a special Rockefeller family bequest.

Space for the March 18th trip is limited, so early registration is suggested. Cost

LOOKING FOR VOLUNTEER TOUR GUIDES

Help Heritage Plantation celebrate its 20th Anniversary Year! Come learn more about the Museum, its collections and exhibits, then share what you've learned with groups of visitors by giving guided tours. Curiosity, flexibility and an ability to work with people, especially student groups, are the only prerequisites. Training classes will be conducted by the museum's director and curatorial staff as well as guest lecturers and will take place on Thursdays from 10:00 a.m. until 12:00 noon, beginning February 23rd. Heaviest concentration of guiding comes in May and June when you will be asked to give a minimum of two tours a week to visiting school groups. As a trained guide, you will also have the opportunity to conduct gallery

Testing for Water Pollution

Did you ever wonder what the water tests are which lead to shellfish bed closures or reports of toxics in fish? Who does those tests and what do they find? To answer these and other questions regarding water quality testing in the coastal zone, the Buzzards Bay Project is sponsoring a workshop entitled Understanding Environmental Testing: A Workshop on Water Tests and What They Mean on Saturday, January 28th, from 9:00 a.m. to 4:15 p.m. The workshop is designed to teach local resource managers, representatives of environmental groups and members of local boards and their agents about the variety of state and local testing programs and the implications of those tests.

Several substances and indicators are testing in coastal waters including coliform, the indicator for bacterial contamination, and nitrates and other nutrients. The tests are performed by municipal government agencies, by the Department of Environmental Quality Engineering, by the Division of Marine Fisheries, by the Department of Public Health and by private laboratories. This workshop will address the role of each of these agencies in testing and regulating water quality and the harvesting of shellfish and finfish in these waters. In addition water quality standards for bathing beaches will be discussed.

How are the standards set and the methods of testing determined? The state and federal governments both play a role in the setting of standards and this workshop will cover how the standards are set, how the tests are performed and what the comparison between the standards and test results tell us about the quality of the water being tested.

Speakers at the workshop are the state and local people who helped create the standards, do the testing or have responsibilities for overseeing major testing programs. The workshop will focus on issues and testing in the Buzzards Bay area especially those areas of research which the Buzzards Bay Project has funded.

Each of the nine speakers at the workshop will discuss a different aspect of water quality testing. Each session will be followed by a question and answer period. This workshop is an excellent opportunity to meet first-hand the state and local people who are monitoring water quality in our region.

The workshop is co-sponsored by the Environmental Protection Agency and the Lloyd Center for Environmental Studies. Registration for the workshop is made by contacting the Lloyd Center. The workshop will be held at Tabor Academy in Marion. The small registration fee of $10.00 covers the cost of lunch and refreshments. Sand dunes' shape and size change significantly with the season; this can be easily observed once one knows what to look for. Winter's high winds and forceful waves make their mark upon the shifting sands, and this will be discussed by Dr. Hankin. Another interesting aspect of sand dunes is the specialized and unique array of plants and animals they support. Organisms living on sand dunes must adapt to a rigorous life of wind, waves, salt spray and dry, sandy conditions. These adaptations will be explained by Dr. Hankin as organisms are encountered and identified during the walk.

The Lloyd Center has been offering weekly walks such as this to the public free of charge for seven years thanks to the generosity of Marianne McDonald Real Estate, Inc. Pre-registration is required for this and other weekly walks, so call 990-0505 to sign up or for more information on this or other Lloyd Center programs.
